NOT A HITCH-HIKER, EITHER!

Dr. Jean M. Vandeur, of Brussels, Belgium, who is making a walking tour of the world, was a visitor here on Sunday and Monday. He had already travelled 42,277 miles and is shortly heading for Mexico, where he will complete his trip. The doctor is a casualty from the Great War, having lost an arm and a leg, but it does not seem to have interfered much with his activity. At the completion of his travels, it is his intention to write a book. He has been on his hiking trip since 1920.

CONDUCTOR IS AUTHOR OF RAILROAD ADVENTURE STORY

So frequent and disastrous were the landlides in Roger's Pass on the Canadian Pacific Railway years ago that trainmen referred to this section in the Canadian Rockies as "pass to paradise," or "Jacob's Ladder." Roger's Pass was eliminated by the construction of the five-mile Connaught Tunnel.

Edmund E. Pugsley, a conductor for the British Columbia Electric Railway has used the avalanches of Roger's Pass as a background for his adventure story "Jacob's Ladder" which appears in the current issue of Railroad Stories Magazine. Pugsley's railroad career began in 1905 with an expedition that surveyed the Midway and Vernon Railway in British Columbia.

Rev. George Driver, of Calgary, has received a call from the United churches at Horn Hill and Springle, and has accepted. He will be succeeding Rev. J. L. Wright, who has taken over the pastorate at Millet.

PASS MERCHANTS PROTEST

At a meeting of Pass merchants, held at Coleman on Monday night and attended by 63, the following resolution was passed in connection with the Ultimate Consumers' Taxi:

"That we do not collect the tax in its present form, but are willing to have the tax added to all goods bought by Alberta merchants and to be collected by the wholesale houses; on goods purchased from outside of the province, the tax to be computed on the invoice values and paid by the merchants."

The meeting decided that the most expeditious and least expensive way to collect was in the same manner as the Dominion sales tax is collected, by being added to the wholesalers' invoices, which is paid by the merchants and charged in the retail selling prices.

The following from Frank, Blairmore, Hillcrest, Bellevue and Coleman signed the register: D. Fidenato, R. Pungagalli, G. R. Neil, J. W. Shields, G. B. Ctonio, J. Lipnicka, A. Oliva, H. T. Halliwell, Mrs. Bell, Toppiano & DeCocco, J. Frank, L. L. Morgana, S. Siroto, V. Krivsky, J. M. Allan, S. E. Wance, John & Cousens, A. Holyk, W. Gate, Joe Venier, J. Levine, Joe Zazula, F. M. THE VINY PILGRIMAGE

Winnipeg, Man., May 4.—"Viny Pilgrimage" specials - will be operated by the Canadian National Railways from points in Western Canada to the seaboard, making direct connection with the Cunard White Star liners "Antonia" and "Ascania" as well as with the "Montealm" and the "Duchess of Bedford," which have been chartered to take care of the pilgrims and which will sail from Montreal on July 16 and 17, according to Osborne Scott, general passenger agent, here.

These specials will consist of standard and tourist sleeping cars, first-class day coaches, observation cars and dining cars. The first special will leave Vancouver at 6.45 p.m. on July 12, Edmonton on July 13, Saskatoon on the morning of July 14, with two specials out of Winnipeg on the night of July 14, arriving Montreal on the morning of July 16. Three special cars will leave Prince Rupert on July 10 and will join the "Viny" special at Edmonton. Special cars will also leave North Battleford and other northern Saskatchewan points on July 13, and will be cut into the special train at Saskatoon. From Prince Albert a special train will also be operated, leaving at 9 o'clock in the evening of July 13. Reservations now being made indicate that another special will be operated from Flin Flon, The Pas and the northern Manitoba country to take care of the ex-service men and relatives of veterans of the Great War who wish to make this pilgrimage to honor the memory of those men who fought so valiantly and remained behind in France.

Indicative of the great interest being taken in the unveiling of Canada's Memorial at Vimy in July is the fact that the large numbers who will make the pilgrimage from Canada will be joined at the seaboard by fellow veterans now residing in the United States. A number of special trains, including three from California, will be operated under the auspices of the Canadian Legion.

Italy is now in full control of Ethiopia.

LOCAL MUSICIANS IN CRANBROOK RECITAL

At the social hall of the United church last Friday evening those in attendance were reminded of the usual annual program of a musical festival, when the prize-winners of the different competitions came forward to play the pieces which had won them distinction. There being no festival in Cranbrook this year, the recital by pupils of Mr. W. H. Moser, violin, and Miss Madeleine Chardon, piano, fitted in very nicely, coming at about the date of the festival had one been held.

The concert was sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the church, and the ladies did commendable work in selling tickets and looking after the welfare of the visiting participants from down in the Pass. Luncheon was provided in the commodious kitchen for these guest artists upon their arrival, and they were served steaming hot coffee prior to their departure for home after the concert.

Mr. Moser gave a short talk on the different phases of music and elucidated on the works of various composers, both ancient and modern. He also made explanatory comments from time to time throughout the evening. Another nice feature was that each participant before rendering a number gave a short outline of the composer and the composition to be played.

All pupils did exceptionally well, several of the older ones giving a real finished performance. Most of the little kiddies who appeared before an audience for the first time gave clever performances for their age and length of time they have been taking lessons. The seating capacity of the social hall was taxed, and the audience showed their keen appreciation of every number on the program.—Cranbrook Courier.

The following from Blairmore, with Miss Chardon and Mr. Moser, took part: Lorna Hales, Doris Hales, George Kerr; from Coleman, Umie Johnson and Freda Antrobus; also several from Bellevue and Hillcrest.

COLEMAN GIRL IS WINNER DANCING HONORS

Captivating the large audience with her clever dancing and singing, little four-year-old Aileen Norman, of Coleman, won first honors in the dancing class of the first amateur show staged by Coleman Elks. Fred Blazenko, also of Coleman, took second place with a Russian dance. Third honors went to Bob Emmerson, another Coleman boy.

Melnie's old-time orchestra of Bellevue, took first place in the instrumental class. A feature of this orchestra was the left-hand fiddling of Alex. Melnie. Albert Horricks, of Michel, took second place with a violin solo, third prize going to Owen Jones, of Coleman, for his rendition on the musical saw.

In the vocal class, Miss Lemay Hadley, of Coleman, sang her way to first place, with Mamie McLennan and Freddie Ledies, taking second and third.

The affair throughout proved a success in every particular.

In an attempted store robbery at Staveley, one of the pair, giving his name as Richard Stafford, 28, a transient, was captured after being hit by a shot fired by the mayor, who owned the store. The police are searching for his pal, named Phillips, said to be an ex-member of the Mounted Police.

A number of Elks from Blairmore and Hillcrest attended the regular meeting of the Coleman lodge last night, when John Vaselek, of Lethbridge, president of the Alberta Elks Association, was an official visitor, representing the grand exalted ruler. A most interesting meeting was followed by refreshments and stump speeches.

THE VACANT CHAIR

A gentle presence, a loving care,
A guiding hand so dear.
A vacant chair is in our home,
And life doth seem most dear.

The wife and mother of our home
Our God hath called away.
The guiding hand and loving care
Doth in the churchyard lay.

Thou' great, indeed, is our loss,
We know it is her gain;
For greatly did she suffer here,
But now she's free from pain.

Her knitting now lies idly by,
Those nimble fingers stilled;
And never more in our home
Will e'er her place be filled.

We never miss the songster
Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown.
We never missed the mother
Till God did call her home.

God bless her soul, dear Lord,
For she's with Thee to dwell.
But soon we'll see her face again,
For life is but a spell.

Have New Theory

Believe Grand Canyon of Arizona Was Formed By Meteor

A theory that the Grand Canyon of Arizona was formed when a giant meteor struck the earth was advanced before the southeast section of the Association for the Advancement of Science.

Disagreeing with the commonly accepted theory that the gorge was the result of erosion, Capt. J. Turley, Albuquerque, N.M., civil engineer, contended the canyon was created when a meteor struck the earth with great force 40 miles west of Flagstaff about 600 years ago.

Miniature Painter Able To Get Close-Up Of King Edward

Josef Hilpert, who recently painted the smallest miniature in the world—a portrait of Premier Hepburn—on a bloodstone, told the Toronto branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club how he recently "crashed the gates" to get a close-up of His Majesty King Edward VIII.

"I thought I'd like to paint him. But when I got there it wasn't so easy. I said I'd come 4,000 miles for the chance. But I was told there were thousands of artists who wanted to paint him," Mr. Hilpert explained. He discovered the British Industries' Fair was scheduled to start on Thursday of that week. He secured a ticket as a buyer, to pass the director of the fair and police, found through which door and at what time His Majesty was due to arrive. He then got permission to stand in an exhibit and joined the Royal entourage as it passed. The King turned and said, "Do you belong to the Royal Family?"

"Oh, I'm a Canadian representative here," he managed to reply.

"Thank you," came the response, and Mr. Hilpert marched on. He came back to Canada with several miniatures.

Mr. Hilpert chose Mr. Hepburn as subject for the smallest miniature in the world because, he explained: "Everybody likes him or doesn't like him."

This artist, who speaks seven languages, was an officer in the Hungarian army, graduated in law and was mayor of the city in which he lived in his native Hungary. He knew only two words of English when he came to Canada, seven years ago. They were "business" and "yes." Last year he published his first book in English.

A Diverting Story

Professor Demonstrates To Class The Power Of Suggestion

From Fremont, Nebraska, comes one of the most diverting stories of the day. Professor Hickman, holding a bottle filled with fluid in front of his psychology class at Midland College, uncorked it and asked the students to raise their hands as soon as they smelled chloroform. In two seconds the first hand had been raised. In forty seconds twenty-six out of a total of thirty students present declared they smelled chloroform. Then the professor closed his simple experiment with the following simple statement: "This bottle contains water."—Montreal Star.

GRANDFATHERS IN COURT WITH STAR

Two of the most interested spectators to the legal battle waged in Los Angeles between his mother and aunt over the custody of Freddie Bartholomew are the grandfathers of the English boy star, shown accompanying him into court. Their English country home was Freddie's residence until his aunt, Miss Bartholomew, brought him to the United States two years ago.

Using Different Colors

Great Britain Painting Submarines

To Match The Sea
The British admiralty, after several years of experimenting, has decided to paint its submarines in different colors to "match" the seas where they serve.

The main purpose of the "protective coloring" is to make the submerged craft invisible to low flying aeroplanes.

For some time it was the theory of naval experts that gray-green would prove the best color, regardless of what sea a submarine might be cruising in. But the hues of the oceans vary to such an extent that new shades had to be added.

British submarines operating in the Atlantic ocean, for instance, will remain gray-green, but those stationed in the Mediterranean will be royal blue. Curiously, those in the Red Sea will be painted black.

Bids are being asked for construction of a sister ship to the new British liner Queen Mary.

Dances are being called balls once more in London.

Ambitious Air Adventure

United States Airman Plans For Non-Stop Trip Around The World

Clyde Pangborn, trans-Atlantic aviator, is tuning up two aeroplanes for ambitious air adventures—record distance and globe-girdling attempts which would possibly include refueling in mid-air at Edmonton. He wants to break the world's distance record of 5,657 miles set by M. Rossi and P. Codos of France in 1933.

Then he wants to fly non-stop around the world, with two or possibly three refueling contacts in mid-air, a thing never before attempted.

Pangborn has accepted delivery of the aeroplane in which he hopes to make the round-the-world flight, he said, and has taken it up for several satisfactory tests.

"I'd like to start the distance flight the latter part of June," he said, "either from Dallas, where I have been dicker with exposition officials, or from Daytona Beach, Fla."

Moscow, about 6,000 miles from either Dallas or Daytona Beach, will be his objective.

The flight to Russia will serve a double purpose, he said. In addition to the hoped-for breaking of the distance record, Pangborn wants to make arrangements with the Russian government for refueling stations at Moscow and Chita, in Siberia, for the round-the-world flight, the date of which is indefinite.

For the globe circling, Pangborn may arrange for an auxiliary refueling station at Edmonton. The flight probably will start from New York.

Claims World Record

After remaining under water for 18 hours, Konstantinov, a Soviet diver, claims the world record for duration of time beneath the surface of the sea. He made the record, Moscow reports, while repairing the hull of a tugboat which had sunk in the Arctic Ocean.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 10

EFFECTUAL PRAYER

Golden text: God, be thou merciful to me a sinner. Luke 18:13.

Lesson: Luke 18.

Devotional reading: I. John 3:18-24.

Explanations And Comments

A Lesson on Perseverance in Prayer, Luke 18:1-8. Jesus gave his disciples the parable of the Unjust Judge and the Importunate Widow, for the purpose of teaching them "the end that," that they ought always to pray, and not to faint. He also told them a parable about the need of always praying, and never losing heart. Moffatt's translation.

The widow in our parable importuned the judge in season and out of season, and for a long time he would not hear her claims. As Dr. S. Parker Chadwick put it, "she camped on his crooked trail, and like the man from Shropshire in 'Bleak House' insisted on being heard at any time and in every place." Finally the judge was moved to give her justice by his fear that her continual coming would wear him out, would "give me a black eye," as the Greek may be literally translated. "It is primarily an athletic word belonging to the pugilistic arena. Jesus must have used a very strong conveying Aramaic term to convey his absolute requirement of importunity in prayer." Moffatt's translation reads: Though I have no reverence for God and no respect even for man, still, as this widow is bothering me, I will see justice done to her—not to have her forever coming and pestering me.

"Hear what the unrighteous judge saith," exclaimed Jesus at the conclusion of his parable: If such a wholly unprincipled man would answer the importunity of a persevering woman, how much more will the just God be ready to hear and respond to persevering prayer!

Million And A Half Dollar Program For Separation Plant

Preliminary work will commence immediately on a $1,500,000 program to develop a tar sands separation plant and oil refinery at Fort McMurray, A. J. Smith, of Kansas City, Mo., vice-president and general manager, announced on his arrival at Edmonton on his way to the field. Operations on the initial plant will commence by September.

Equipment for a 250-ton separation plant is now being manufactured at Kingston, Ont., and will be shipped within six or eight weeks for installation at McMurray. Next fall and winter equipment for a 3,000-ton plant will be shipped to the field.

A Queer Coincidence

Draw At Charity Carnival Quite A Family Affair

Little six-year-old Phyllis Stephen stood at centre ice at a charity carnival in Calgary and pulled a ticket in a raffle for 1,800 tickets in a raffle for a blanket. The holder of that number was absent so she picked another from the box. The number was called and a woman started coming down to get the prize. A. Stephen leaned over to a reporter and said:

"That's my daughter who pulled the ticket. That's my wife who won the raffle. And I donated the blanket."

Investigation proved he was correct.

Cars Replace Camels

YOUR GARDEN

Weather, soil and location may be ideal but without good seed, specially selected to suit Canadian conditions, the garden is going to be a failure. There is no guarantee that a flower which has given wonderful results in Great Britain or the Southern States will do equally well in this country, because of this the average gardener is well advised to secure his seed and nursery stock from a reliable Canadian source.

Many people believe that it is much more difficult to grow beautiful flowers than a few rows of column vegetables. But this is not so. In many respects it is easier to produce the flowers. Of course there are certain things like gorgeous roses, delicately shaded lilies, and tender, stately lilies which certainly will not thrive on neglect, but there are also a dozen or so annuals and a few perennials which require practically no skill. For, edging walks or borders. It comes in several sizes up to 8x or eight inches in height. It will grow almost anywhere and will bloom all season, if the dead flowers are sheared off two or three times with clippers or even a lawn mower. Portulaca is another which can be planted and forgotten. It likes a hot sunny location and does not want much moisture. Portulaca will bloom all summer. A little larger, is the California or pot Marigold. It thrives in almost any position, though it should not be too shaded. After thinning plants, if a plant is needed. The ordinary dwarf French Marigold is another which should not be overlooked by the gardener. It has little time to devote to his hobby and also the California Poppy, Cosmos and ornamental Sunflower. This selection will give plenty of bloom, a fair range of colour and height.

Vegetable gardens should be very productive affairs, and from a fraction of an acre of ground, ten times the yield is expected as would result from a similar area under ordinary field conditions. Where space is limited it is possible to grow two crops of vegetables in sections of Canada where the summer season is short. This is done by planting rows of very early crops in lettuce, radish and asparagus, in between later maturing vegetables such as corn, tomatoes, parsnips and Swiss chard. By the time the later things are beginning to need full room, the first named group will be used and out of the way. For this sort of planting eight to fifteen inches between rows is sufficient, or a better rule would be to allow the regular distance between the rows of corn and tomatoes, for instance, then simply put the early stuff in between.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread." Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but, Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is uninjured. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties.

Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Buzz Hamilton arrives back in Rawhide while Fleming and Helen are in the bank getting a loan for payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper Kilgo and Jackpot Mell meet him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin him. Buzz, inflamed with liquor and anger, tries to throttle Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of the $500 they had obtained from the bank.

On their arrival home they were met by a couple of Link's workmen, who told Fleming that there was a strike at the dam, and that the men were afraid they would not get the wages. Link told them of the robbery and promised them their money when it was possible. The men reluctantly returned to work.

Fleming finds Roper and Jackpot Mell making trouble among his workmen, and orders them off his place at the point of his gun. Both Jackpot and Roper swear revenge. Mell telling Fleming to shoot him with him, as Mell would shoot him the next time they met.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XIII.

Toward ten o'clock the following morning Link rode back to his ranch house after a hard ride over the Valley, where with Waco Byrne and his skeleton force of riders he had gone about cutting 'all saleable steers from his herd assembled there. The result was nearly four hundred head, all he could possibly spare without seriously crippling his prospects for the coming year, even considering the probable sale of alfalfa grown by irrigation, which would enable him to purchase new breeding stock.

As he neared the corral, pondering ranch affairs, he saw the ramrod figure of Ames Stephens waiting. Apprehension flashed through his brain, but he nodded coolly and rode closer. "What's on your mind this mornin', Sheriff?"

The other did not dismount, but sat masticating a fresh bite of tobacco. "Link, is there any way you can get out from under this here folly of yores?"

He was forced to grin even though the words had a concerned ring. "Not unless I stay on this horse and ride till sunset."

"Hm. From what I hear you're goin' to lose everything."

The rancher looked up. "What do you mean, Ames?"

Stephens pursed his lips as if to whistle, but changed his mind. "Due for killin', too. That's bad. I heard about Mell markin' yuh, Link." He shook his head sadly. "I'm dead set against shootin', but it happens sometimes anyhow. Shouldn't have got his dander up. I—uh, Jackpot ain't never failed yet to kill a man."

There was a momentary silence. "What do you mean about losing everything?" the spread boss asked quietly.

"Nothin' in particular. Only I come past the Hamilton place and caught Helen lookin' like she ain't slept all night. Worry done it. I reckon. Worry from bills and havin' yuh marked for Bog-Hill. All that from Fleming's Folly. Fleming's Folly from that crack-brained noodle of yores!"

"You really think I'm crack-brained, Sheriff?"

Stephens's cheeks grudgingly relaxed into what was for him a benevolent grin, though for anyone else it would have been merely a reflective smile. "Reckon yuh got busted. Everybody's got. Mell and Roper and Matt Benson and

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuralgia or neuritis, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for every average person to take regularly.

Seth Howland, and even yore own partner's brother, Link, yuh should've cooked up this here scheme. What'll yuh do after yuh go busted and take the Triple H along? And get yoreself killed? What about the gal?" he persisted.

Fleming dropped from his saddle, tossed reins over the mare's ears, and rolled himself a smoke. "In that case, and if I don't become a yore county murder case, I'll maybe ride to yuh house in town, Ames, and ask for a hundred dollars. Then I'll marry Helen Hamilton and hit the trail."

The other's piercing gaze did not waver. "You ain't a good risk around here. Gettin' out's the only condition I'd loan yuh money on. Howsom ever," Stephens observed, and spat with extreme accuracy at a distant turf of bunchgrass. "I kinda think yuh won't get Helen."

"No? Who will?"

"Roper."

"Link smiled. 'He did have the inside track, for awhile, that's true. Don't think he has it any more, though.'"

"What's that?"—startledly. "He's shore markin' a heavy play or I ain't never been 'lected sheriff.'"

Abruptly he changed the subject, as was his wont. "Have yuh turned up anything about that holdup and the eight hundred?"

Link shook his head. "I'm dependin' on yuh, Ames."

"Yeah. He gathered his reins and readjusted himself in the worn Mexican saddle. 'I'm after the hombre now, but I don't know who he is, where he is, or if he is. All I got is a bunch about them leather cuffs Helen grabbed one of. I can always get yuh a marriage license in a hurry, Link,' he added, and rode quickly out of earshot."

Fleming looked after, noting that Stephens headed for Silver Creek Dam. He realized that in his odd actuation, Ames had wished him well, expressed confidence in Link as a man but skepticism in him as a builder of the irrigation dam. Also that he had delivered a friendly warning in regard to Kilgo seeking favor with Helen Hamilton, and that he had little notion yet who had held her up.

The rancher climbed to the top of the corral rail and sat smoking in sober reflection. To a man, Boone County believed and almost hoped, that his plans would end in ruin. Querer, how obstinate people could be in regard to improvement. Merely because irrigation was as yet something new and outside their limited experience, they fully expected his dam to fail!

He noticed a round-shouldered rider approaching, his carriage plainly that of one unused to the saddle. In some surprise Link recognized the hang-dog outline of Buzz Hamilton.

Helen's brother rode straight toward him and dismounted. "Hello, Link. Gettin' yore men over to the Triple H soon, ain't yuh? Our boys are waitin' every pound o' beef we can spare, and I understand Starkey Bush promised to put us first in shippin' tomorrow morn'." They have to start for Junction to-day."

Puzzlement must have betrayed itself, for Buzz laughed somewhat self-consciously and climbed beside Link, holding his mount's reins over one wrist while he produced cigarette material.

"Feelin' a little cooled off since yesterday?" he asked.

"Sure. It was those other hom-bred made me sore. Gyp had been trouble before. Buster fired him and I had to knock him down. Roper didn't hardly win my love there at the dam, and as far's Jackpot Mell is concerned— His fingers strayed to the hard butt of his holstered gun. "It looks like trouble next time we meet. They might be friend o' yers, but yuh sure aren't friends o' mine. How does it feel to be home?" he added, to change the subject.

Hamilton struck a match and inhaled smoke from his cigarette. He seemed to be mulling the words of some proposal. Pondering what had transformed Buzz, it struck Link as pitiful, the man's position in the world. An ex-concave, he wore an indelible mark that only time and irreparable behaviour could erase. He could not help but feel deep gratitude that he was not in Hamilton's boots, and that the Lord had not handicapped him with Buzz's weak chin, his unstable nature, his utter lack of will power.

He was wondering why I came. He could not help but feel deep gratitude that he was not in Hamilton's boots, and that the Lord had not handicapped him with Buzz's weak chin, his unstable nature, his utter lack of will power.

grasp his hand and to declare warm support. But some inner voice stayed him. He recalled Sheriff Ames Stephens's visit and his veiled warning. Link frowned. "Who put you up to this, Buzz?"

"What's that? Who put me up—Say!" he exclaimed, his hurt look swiftly changing to defensive anger. "What the heck yuh mean? The thought of it myself—me and Helen!"

There was a moment's silence. "Wish I could believe that."

Buzz's face charged with color. His eyes, Link noticed, avoided his own. "I knew yuh'd be like that!" came bitterly. "I knew yuh wouldn't give me a chance. Not yuh, Fleming—yuh got me paroled so's yuh could keep me from gettin' my rights!"

He started to clamber from the corral fence but Link stopped him. "Hold on. Maybe I was too fast. Let's talk this over. Helen likes the idea, eh? What does Roper think of it?" he asked, and his gaze fastened more intently on the other's face.

"Why... it was Kilgo that— Young Hamilton halted. Confusion was plain in his manner, in the self-accusing quiver of his chin. He tried to veer away from the break.

"I haven't asked him yet. Why?" Link dropped with alacrity to the ground. Buzz followed suit and they faced each other. "Yen, yuh have, Buzz. Kilgo thought this up. He's got some scheme behind this."

"What kind of a scheme could he have?"

"To get the spread away from yuh, once Helen gives yuh power of attorney. I know darn well that's it!"

Hamilton underwent a swift change. His face greyed and his fingers worked spasmodically. "Damn yuh!" he cried in hot anger. "Yuh're set on bustin' our ranch sky-high! I see through yuh-me and a lot more people. Makin' out yore crazy about my sister just to get her help to finance yore old dam. Yuh got some plan to grab the Triple H. Anyhow, yuh'll try!"

"Hold on!" The Star Loop owner's tone was cold as ice. His jaw set with a map and in Link's grey eyes was a steely warning glint. "Don't yuh claim I'm deceivin' Helen?" he warned angrily, "or I'll break yuh into kindlin'! Here I get yuh paroled for a favor to her, and yuh come home and start throwin' yourself to the dogs. Why don't yuh make a man of yourself instead of knucklin' to Kilgo and his crowd of trouble-makers? Why don't yuh? Be inquisitive, lowerin' his tanned face to stare into that of Buzz."

Battle of Wits

News Photographers Prevented From Taking Pictures At Wembley

Score one for Wembley stadium strategists as well as for the Arsenal. While the Gunners battled their way to a 1-0 victory over Sheffield United in the English cup final on the mammoth enclosure, stadium officials won a battle of wits fought in the air.

The other party in what turned out to be an exciting diversion for a crowd of 93,000 soccer enthusiasts was a battery of news photographers employed by film companies seeking to outwit the Wembley directors by "shooting" the game from autogyros and other aeroplanes. The officials had decided to make their own film, and in their efforts to defeat the photographers, directed 20 powerful searchlights on the aircraft.

After unsuccessful negotiations over royalties, Wembley authorities banned all motion picture cameras. The companies darkly hinted their pictures would be available in theatres that night.

When the game started, four autogyros and 10 slow planes started a merry-go-round above the arena, but the searchlights put a decided crimp in their operations.

Little Helps For This Week

Let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their souls to Him in well-doing, as unto a faithful Creator. 1 Peter 4:19.

On Thy compassion I repose In weakness and distress; I will not ask for greater ease, Let I should love Thee less. It is a blessed thing for me To need Thy tenderness.

Look not at your pain or sorrow, however great they may be, but look from them and beyond them to the great Deliverer whose power is over them, and whose loving and tender spirit is able to do you good by them. The Lord will lead you in the right way, day by day, and keep your mind stayed on Him in whatever befalls you. The belief in His love and hope in His mercy, when you are at the lowest ebb, will keep your head above the billows.

The Age Of Power

Reported Invention Of Japanese Scientist Would Revolutionize Industry

A young Japanese scientist, Hideyuki Kikuchi, 21, is said to have completed an invention which in some unrevealed manner generates ultra-short electro-magnetic waves of allegedly such great energy that they can be used in ways likely to revolutionize industry. The first application is to be on the smelting of ores, in which it reportedly does away with the present elaborate melting furnace and the hydro-generation of coal to produce oil. The inventor is going to obtain patents in eleven European and American countries. As the result of this invention Japan withdraws orders from Germany for electric furnaces.

The Genius Of Dickens

People Who Never Read His Books Know The Characters

Dickens was the sublime caricaturist whose Pecksniff and Micawber, James Chubbewit and Squeers and Uriah Heep are not creatures of flesh and blood like those of Thackeray and George Eliot. They are rather human virtues and foibles embodied and walking about on two legs. They are quoted and symbolized, wherever the English language is spoken even by people who know Dickens as they know Shakespeare, only by hearsay. And it is one test of his greatness that we can return to him again and again and catch something of the spirit of that general acclaim with which his genius was recognized in Pickwick a century ago.—Boston Transcript.

PURCHASERS AND VENDORS

This coming week will be dedicated to getting adjusted to the new consumers' sales tax of two per cent on a widespread list of commodities in general circulation. The taxable goods and the exemptions are badly jumbled in the minds of most people, and the stricken consumer is tied up in knots of confusion.

On the face of it, this new act seems to involve such an appalling amount of labor as to inspire the hope that it may be abandoned. The bulk of the labor falls upon the vendor, however, and the consumer pays the tax, leaving the government in the happy position of opening its coffers for the money to roll in.

Groceries, for instance, are a mixture of taxable and tax free goods. Sugar, flour, bread and a number of other commodities are exempted. So every month, on all charge accounts, the grocer will have to go through his slips, separating the two types of goods. He must then add 2 per cent to the taxable part of the bill, and this, the consumer will pay. The grocer must make his returns by the 15th, so he cannot afford to do any waiting for bills to be paid. He is allowed 5 per cent for collecting, which would be $4.00 on a tax of $80.00. But the trouble of charging, collecting, checking and receipting the tax, will involve time and labor, more nearly approximating the $80.00 than the $4.00. For all those who pay cash, he must give a receipt for each taxable transaction over 15 cents.

The grocer is only one type of vendor. In almost all other stores the same process will have to be carried out.

If a commodity is bought on the instalment plan over a period of months, the tax is payable on the total amount. If for any reason the purchaser does not complete his payments, and loses the commodity his tax is not refunded. In case of a trade-in or part payment, the tax is paid on the full value of the article bought. If a car is bought for $1000 with a used car traded in at $500, the tax is paid on the $1000. When the used car is re-sold, a tax is collected on its sale price. This applies also to radios, furniture, etc.

This obviously hits car dealers a body blow, and will doubtless increase car trade for dealers in adjoining provinces, especially those near the boundary.

The exemption of mail order goods from outside the province is another feature which will be reflected in provincial business, though the difficulties of instituting a tax applying to external businesses is evident.

Again there is exemption for border towns such as Lloydminster, which makes it nice for those fortunately located points, but relatively tough for the inlanders.

All firms are to be registered on May 5, and will proceed with the labyrinth of collecting, extra bookkeeping and so on.—High River Times, April the 30th.

Proclamation declaring Monday, May the 4th, as Arbor Day and a public holiday, was received in the Crow's Nest Pass on that day. That's prompt service from Edmonton. Why not use the newspapers, as former governments did? Not so very long ago, a provincial proclamation declaring a holiday was made known locally to about a half dozen subscribers to the Alberta Gazette about five days after the appointed day had passed.

EATON'S

A SOLEMN COMPACT

The conviction is growing among thoughtful people in America that if the United States and Great Britain entered into a solemn compact to outlaw war anywhere on earth, they could very well succeed in their objective. France would eagerly subscribe to such a compact. So would Russia. All the Hitlers, Mussolinis and Japanese militarists on earth would sheath their swords in the face of such a compact.

When peace was again restored in the world, the mad race of armaments abandoned and scientists and philosophers could work peacefully and unafraid in a world freed of the terrors of war, maybe we could make real progress in ordering the affairs of this world.—Elizabeth City (N.C.) Independent.

One of the many regrettable incidents brought about by the Ultimate Consumers' Tax Act was noted here on Saturday, and no doubt there were hundreds somewhat similar. A little girl entered a store to make a purchase that was priced 15 cents. She produced the 15 cents in payment, and when the clerk demanded another cent, she burst into tears. Her mother had given her a cent to buy a candy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McDougall, of Kelowna, B.C., celebrated their golden wedding recently. Born in Ontario, they immigrated to the Dakotas, then to the prairies and finally to Kelowna. Their four sons, V. B. McDougall, of Winfield; E. B. McDougall, of Cayley, Alberta; Russel, of Blairmore, and Franklin, of Saginaw, Michigan, were with them for the occasion, but their daughter, Mrs. W. R. Henderson, of High River, was unable to be present.—Ex.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Isobel Christie was a visitor to Calgary for a few days this week. James Goldie, of Lethbridge, is paying a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Swart and family here.

Inspector Bremner was visiting schools in this district during the week.

The Ladies' Aid of the United church was entertained by Mrs. Robert Day at her home in the Tennessee district on Thursday afternoon last. Fifteen ladies were present, most of them driving out from town. After routine business was disposed of, resolutions were passed to donate one white nightshirt to hospital, five dollars to the Foreign Bible Society and fifty dollars toward the salary of the local United church minister. At the close of the meeting, a very delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

A tea and pantry sale, sponsored by the ladies of St. Joseph's church, was held in the Masonic hall on Saturday afternoon. Tables were tastefully decorated with fancy linen tea cloths and bouquets of flowers. In spite of the busy season, there was a fair turnout. Through the effort a neat sum was added to the church fund.

Mrs. Samuel Tustian (Grandma) is paying an extended visit with her son Elwin and family at Parkland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Horning were motor visitors to Waterton Lakes on Sunday. They report never having seen so many deer in the park before. There were a few hundred of them, they judged, and secured several nice snaps. They are very tame now.

Mr. and Mrs. Walters, of Lundbreck, left for Calgary on Sunday by motor to attend the graduation of their second daughter as a nurse. She has been in training at the General Hospital for about four years. Alvin Murphy acted as relieving postmaster during Mr. Walters' absence.

On Friday night last, in aid of St. Martin's church, a dance and miscellaneous sale was held at the home of the Warriner brothers, at which there was a good attendance. Music was furnished by Hood and Horace Poulson. Thirty-two dollars were added to the church fund.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ritsen, of Lundbreck, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Littleton here.

George Burles has gone to Blairmore, where he will be employed with the Crystal Dairy.

After a lapse of years, Cowley is again entering the field of the Alberta school fair work, and will hold a school fair the latter part of September. Prize lifts have been passed around, and seeds distributed to the children of the various schools in the district. Those taking part will be Cowley (two rooms), Lundbreck (two rooms), Todd Creek, Tanner, Olin Creek, Ashvale, Willow Valley, Leo, Burmis, Chapel Rock, Gadashill, Fir Grove, Beaver Mines, Tenneyson and Coaldale. In this enterprise, marked interest has always been shown and prizes have been won in keen competition in the past; but this year we expect to stage the best fair ever held here, and are looking forward to there being a very large number of entries in each class. There will also be an elocution and vocal contest in the evening of the fair day. All entries will be judged by competent judges from the agricultural colleges.

During the past week, marked interest has been shown in an effort to beautify the homes in Cowley. Many trees and flowering shrubs have been transplanted, and gardens and flower beds prepared for seeding and early planting. The trees, after their winter's sleep, are now bursting into leaf, taking on their new dress of summer verdure and lending to spring their freshness in grace and beauty. Many enthusiasts cut down the cost of improvement by exchanging seeds, plants and cuttings.

Victoria Day will be celebrated at Cowley on Monday, May the 25th, with the usual programme. The committee hope to make this the biggest and best ever held here. Among other attractions, there will be air-plan flying, baseball, etc. Watch for later particulars. The following comprise the committee: F. A. Tustian, James Lote, H. C. Morrison (secretary-treasurer).

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. S. Richards and family motored to Lethbridge on Friday. C. C. Hulley, of the Natal teaching staff, was a visitor here last week end. E. C. Costick and Mrs. D. Curry, of Bellevue, took part in the Sunday evening service in the United church by rendering several selections from Steiner's "Crucifixion."

Miss Irene Turner was a Fernie visitor over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Pein and family were Lethbridge visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Warriner motored to Calgary for the graduation ceremonies at the General Hospital, where their daughter, Miss Mary Warriner, was one of the class graduating. Miss Warriner had been in training for upwards of three years.

A very successful concert and dance was held on Thursday night in the Union hall, under auspices of the local Ukrainian society.

Mrs. H. Westup and daughter Isabel are Calgary visitors this week.

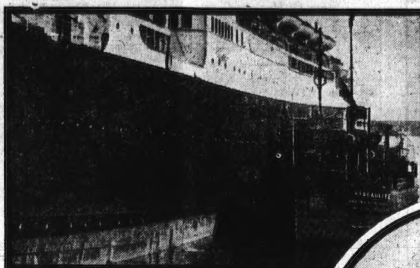

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Colin Sutherland, who has been visiting at Vancouver for the past month, returned on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, of Lacombe, who had been visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Morris, returned to her home last week end.

Misses Beatrice and Jessie Radford, after spending the past three weeks visiting in Winnipeg, returned home on Friday.

Mrs. S. Lesson and two daughters,

EXTEND PLAN TO PLACE SINGLE MEN ON FARMS

Ottawa.—Extension of the farm placement scheme to all provinces was foreshadowed in the House of Commons by Labor Minister Rogers. It has applied for three years to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and involves single unemployed men placed on farms for the winter months.

The house passed a vote of $1,000,000 for the scheme when the minister said he hoped to meet the provinces within the next few weeks and proposed extension of the scheme. At the present time, the Dominion pays $5 a month to the man and the provinces pay $5 to the farmer.

During the past winter, farm placements in Manitoba were 5,200; Saskatchewan, 6,700; and Alberta, 2,280.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) asked what was the object of putting unskilled people on outlying farms when skilled men on good farms could not make a decent living.

Mr. MacInnis said spending money for land settlement was pure waste. It only made it more difficult for the farmers and it was of no help to the city people. The government seemed to forget that production was a social process and under modern conditions no one could produce all his own needs.

"Why don't you suggest training these people as doctors?" asked Miss Agnes Macphail.

"Because there are enough doctors now and a lot of them can't make a living," was the reply. "A lot of doctors should go back to the land."

Miss Macphail said she became annoyed at philanthropists who always wanted to push people out of the cities and onto farms. Doctors, lawyers and manufacturers never wanted to make any new competition for themselves but were eager to create more competition in agriculture.

An investigation of the land settlement scheme, where city relief families are placed on farms, will be conducted before the next session of parliament, Minister Rogers announced.

He intended to visit settlements for first-hand knowledge and to assist him in concluding whether the scheme should be retained, expanded or abandoned.

Air Cooling System

Queen Mary First Ship To Be Air-Conditioned By Steam

New York.—The Queen Mary is the first ship in the world cooled and air-conditioned by steam. Steam has never been used before for cooling a vessel, although it is in use on some Canadian and United States railroads. The steam cooling plant is one of the features of the Queen Mary, the other two being carbon dioxide and methyl chloride cooling systems.

The Queen Mary has the largest air conditioning capacity of any vessel afloat, equal to the cooling coming from melting half a million pounds of ice daily.

Careless Driving Penalties

Bill Before Federal House Would Make Punishment Heavier

Ottawa.—A bill of not less than 30 days on conviction the first time of driving a motor car while under the influence of alcohol or a narcotic is proposed in a bill, sponsored by T. L. Church, Conservative member of the House of Commons for Toronto-Broadview.

The bill is designed to amend the criminal code with the idea of increasing penalties for careless driving of motor cars. One section declares persons guilty of speeding, racing or cutting-in may be subject to one year's imprisonment or a $200 fine or both.

Cut Legislature

Fewer Members in Ontario House Promised by Premier

Toronto.—Reduction in membership of the Ontario legislature before the next election was promised by Premier Hepburn.

Prior to the last election in June, 1934, the Conservative government of Premier George S. Henry reduced the number of seats from 112 to 90. Mr. Hepburn's proposed reduction may lower the number to 80 or even 75.

Veteran Lumberman Dead

Joseph Vipond Went To B.C. During Yukon Gold Rush

Nanaimo, B.C.—Joseph William Vipond, retired lumberman and a crown witness in one of the most startling crimes of the Yukon gold rush, is dead here, aged 74.

Mr. Vipond was one of a party of six, including Joseph Claus, which started for the Klondike in 1898. Claus and two others fell behind and some time later Claus' companions were found slain in their tent on the Stikine River in northern British Columbia. Claus was arrested, convicted of murder and sentenced to death in Nanaimo. He maintained his innocence and died of self-administered poison on the day of his execution.

Mr. Vipond, as a member of the original party, was one of the witnesses brought back from the gold trail to testify for the crown.

Born in Illinois, Mr. Vipond came to Vancouver Island as a child. After gold rush days he entered the lumbering business and while logging in 1907 made the record cut of the Pacific coast—13,500,000 feet from one claim on Cowichan Lake. He retired in 1913.

Public Works Program

New Zealand Government To Relieve Unemployment Problem

Wellington, N.Z.—The labor government is embarking on an ambitious program of public works, which it is expected will ameliorate the unemployment situation.

Minister of Public Works R. Semple announced a three-year plan, drawn up by departmental engineers and embodying the government's policy. It is anticipated the plan will provide the chief avenue for the absorption of the unemployed.

Men will be employed in various projects, in the following order of preference: Road construction, river protection, airports, completion of railways, irrigation and drainage schemes, road bridges, overhead railway crossings, buildings, hydro-electric works and housing schemes.

Hydro-electric development is an outcome of the government's policy of providing cheap power for the gold mining industry in view of the recent encouragement given to the investment of outside capital. In 1935 New Zealand had an average of 38,252 unemployed.

Would Separate Departments

Use Of Commission For Soldiers' Pensions Is Suggested

Ottawa.—Complete separation of the veterans' bureau from the department of pensions and the placing of this body under an independent and voluntary national commission was urged before the house pensions committee here by Lt.-Col. G. R. Philip, of the Canadian Corps Association. At the same time, Captain Wilfred W. Parry, for the same organization, recommended adjudication on pensions matters become a function of district and county court judges.

Pensions Minister Power, who presided, declared the first of these suggestions echoed an old complaint—that as soon as a man became paid by the government he was suspected by the soldier and regarded by the veteran as an antagonist.

Bank Of Canada

Almost One-Third Of The Shares Held By Women

Ottawa.—Women held 30,447 of the total 100,000 shares of the Bank of Canada. Finance Minister Dunning tabbed a return in the House of Commons giving the distribution of shares by occupational groups in the Bank of Canada at the end of 1935.

It revealed by far the largest block of stock is held by "housewives" who have 19,359 shares. "Ladies" have 6,899, "nurses" 1,010 and "widows" 3,179.

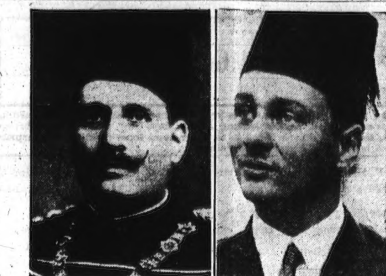

The return shows legislators have 17 shares, undertakers 14, newspapermen 445, soldiers 31. Under the name of "gentlemen" 7,057 shares are held.

Only One Voter

Paris.—Albert Cheny had a ballot box all to himself in the French elections. The village of Moreau, in Marne-Haute district, has only three inhabitants—Cheny, his mother and his sister. But as women do not vote, Cheny is the only elector.

Cost Of Vimy Memorial

Ottawa.—Canada's national memorial on Vimy Ridge will cost in the neighborhood of $1,200,000, Defence Minister Mackenzie told T. L. Church (Cons., Toronto-Broadview) in the House of Commons. 2149

OBJECTION HEARD TO AMENDMENT OF B. N. A. ACT

Ottawa.—The senate heard George Lynch-Staunton (Cons., Hamilton) register objection to any action of the British parliament which would give Canada the right to amend the British North America Act.

In its present parliament and in the provincial legislatures, Canada had all the power the imperial parliament could give, except that enabling the Dominion to establish itself as a sovereign state, he insisted.

Senator Lynch-Staunton said he did not conceive the British parliament could give, except that enabling the Dominion to establish itself as a sovereign state, he insisted.

Second reading was given to the measure amending the customs act to bring it into line with the Canada-Japanese and the Canada-United States trade agreements particularly with respect to duty valuations. The bill making changes in the administration of the Indian act went as far as second reading after the Conservative leader ironically remarked the draftsmen of the measure should be given the Victoria Cross. It was held over for amendments.

Senator Arthur C. Hardy (Lib., Brockville) pressed his inquiry if the government would give official recognition "to the fact that the year 1937 marks the 100th anniversary of the rising in Upper Canada under William Lyon Mackenzie, which with the concurrent one in Lower Canada, directly led to the establishment of responsible government in Canada." Debate is to be continued this week.

Senator Meighen, Conservative leader, said Senator Hardy wanted action taken to celebrate the rebellion led by Mackenzie because in the view of the Brockville senator that rebellion led to a chain of events resulting in the establishment of responsible government in Upper Canada.

Insurance Act

Senate Banking Committee Hears Protest From Companies

Ottawa.—An attack on the measure amending the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act was launched by Canadian life insurance companies and the Independent Order of Foresters before the senate banking and commerce committee.

The insurance companies protested the proposal to increase from 90 to 95 per cent. the minimum proportion of the profits derived from the participating policies issued by Canadian stock companies apportionable to policyholders.

Rumors Still Persist

That Prime Minister Baldwin Will Retire Soon

London.—Reports persist in circles close to the government the retirement of Prime Minister Baldwin will not be long delayed.

"When I retire it will be at my own time," was Mr. Baldwin's own reply to rumors to this effect at Worcester three weeks ago.

S. F. Markham, National Labor member of parliament, declared the prime minister had made up his mind to resign and was only awaiting an opportunity.

Markham said: "I do not say the retirement will be in the next few weeks but one thing of which I am certain is the government before this time next year will be changed out of all recognition."

Markham added the "best man" as successor to Mr. Baldwin would be Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

Such an opinion is shared fairly generally among political gossip. The Spectator suggests Mr. Baldwin will resign after the coronation of the King in May, 1937.

Alpine Manoeuvres

Many Rumors and Counter-Charges In Europe

Geneva.—Austrian troops were engaging in Alpine manoeuvres not far from the German border, but the war office at Vienna insisted they were routine.

The German press charged rumors that German troops were concentrated near the Austrian border were French propaganda aimed at influencing British opinion against Germany.

French officials claimed the rumors were attempts to influence the League of Nations on the Ethiopian question, while other French sources charged "accuses" were British propaganda to influence Italy. British quarters in Paris countered the rumors were French propaganda to convince Britain she must lift sanctions against Italy if Austria's independence is to be preserved by Italy's army.

Officials said four infantry battalions, two artillery battalions and one armored car unit were engaging in the Alpine manoeuvres. A total of 1,450 men were said to be participating.

A WIDER RADIO NEWS BULLETIN SERVICE OFFERED

Toronto.—Proposal for establishment of a Canadian Press radio news bulletin service through the day was unanimously approved at the annual meeting of members of the Canadian Press.

The meeting approved the memorandum presented by its president, W. B. Preston of the Brantford Exportor, and a delegation of directors who appeared April 7 last before the parliamentary committee investigating radio under the chairmanship of A. L. Beaubien. The memorandum proposes to supplement with three day-time bulletins the 10-minute summary of the day's news now broadcast each evening over the network of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission.

The supplementary bulletins will be prepared at the head office of the Canadian Press in Toronto free of charge and delivered through the co-operation of the land telegraph companies at a small transmission cost to any Canadian radio station wishing the service. The bulletins must not be used with any sponsored program.

Members affirmed the stand of the board of directors that in the national interest an accurate and unbiased day-and-night service of news on the air be made available to the Canadian public as an alternative to foreign broadcasts.

The meeting welcomed the assurance of the president that the parliamentary radio committee received sympathetically the request for continued protection of the Canadian Press and its members against theft of their news by radio stations.

Approval was given proposals of the general manager for improvement of the news service, particularly by widening the scope of British news direct from the London office of the Canadian Press.

A resolution expressing sorrow at the death of Harry W. Anderson was passed by a standing vote. Mr. Anderson, a director representing the Toronto Globe and Mail, was one of the most esteemed and loved of Canadian newspapermen.

RELIEF BILL AND BLANK CHEQUES UNDER REVIEW

Ottawa.—The senate gave second reading to the unemployment relief bill and sent it to the banking and commerce committee for further consideration.

The limitation of parliamentary vote was contained in the unemployment bill as was the case in former years, Senator Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, said, following a review of provisions of the measure by Senator Raoul Dandurand. In effect, the government was saying it was ready to give a "blank cheque" for relief but was not ready to give a "blank cheque" for peace order and good government, which latter provisions were not in the measure.

"All this talk against blank cheque legislation is now exploded as humbug and insincerity," he declared.

Practical steps should be taken by the government to better unemployment conditions, Senator Meighen said. The government had gotten as far in the study of unemployment relief problem "as they have in Alberta or another subject."

Senator Dandurand declared that when the government had come into office it had taken immediate steps to face the problem. The present government had promised to apply its best efforts to solve the question, and had not promised to "end unemployment" as the former Conservative administration had done in 1930.

Not only were these steps proposed in conjunction with the provinces but also through the instrumentality of industrial agencies employing labor with the provinces at the lowest level to improve conditions. An unemployment commission of seven was being set up under another bill to deal with the problem.

When a vote of $9,200,000 was being considered in the House of Commons for relief projects in conjunction with the provinces, Minister Rogers said he could not give details because agreements with provinces had not been negotiated.

Conservative Leader Bennett said this made the vote a blank cheque, a derogatory term often hurled at his government's legislation.

The minister disagreed. It would not be a blank cheque because the sum of money was stipulated.

That made no difference, Mr. Bennett retorted. Parliament still did not know how the money was to be spent; it was blank cheque authority.

It was impossible to give details of the projects because the agreements were not signed, the minister repeated. When in opposition, Liberals criticized Conservative legislation as blank cheque, because the spending power was unlimited, no sums were stipulated at all.

Price Advance Warranted

Minister Of Agriculture Answers Question Regarding Potato Crop

Ottawa.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner informed the House of Commons recent advances in potato prices were warranted by crop and marketing conditions, according to reliable information in his department.

The minister dealt with a series of questions asked by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction party leader. Mr. Stevens had drawn attention to a press dispatch which, he said, stated there was a shortage of potatoes in Canada. He wished to know if the government was aware this statement was unwarranted, and retail prices for potatoes had advanced as a result of it.

The government was not aware that the statement was unwarranted, the minister replied. "On the contrary reliable information shows that the crop and marketing position warranted a sharp price advance in potatoes. Commercial holdings in Canada at April 1 totalled 48,152 tons against 246,673 tons in 1935."

Milk Condensing Plant

Red Deer, Alta.—Work will start soon on a milk condensing to be erected in Red Deer by the Central Alberta Dairy pool at an estimated cost of $100,000, it was announced here. It was expected the plant would be ready for operation in July.
